

ENGINE LUBRICATION CHART
DIAGRAMATIC-SHOWING CIRCUIT OF OIL IN ENGINE

Fig. 5 Diagrammatic View of Lubricating System

Connecting rod bearings are lubricated by passages drilled from the crankshaft main journals to the connecting rod journals of the crankshaft.

Pistons, piston rings and piston pins receive lubrication from oil spray thrown from the engine crankshaft. The connecting rods on the engines are not drilled for oil channels.